Pants on Fire present the UK premiere of:

SPLICE: A Theatrical Ode to Cinema

Originally created by Peter Bramley, Carolyn Cohagan, Lucy Egger and Ann-Marie Kerr
Cast for 2005: Peter Bramley, Dawn Fleming, Liz Hague, Kate Mooney, Tid (Iain Tidbury)

13th June to 2nd July at oh/art, Bethnal Green

Press Night: 14th June at 8pm

Four actors present one hundred years of cinema in one hour. See Jaws without water, Vertigo without stairs and even the Stars Wars trilogy condensed to five minutes in a fast paced, popcorn guzzling theatrical tour de force of mime, puppetry, song, mask, movement and light to capture the essence of over 35 well known movies.

Following their recent sell-out production of Tossed! at People Show studios (25th April to 7th May 05), Pants on Fire cross the Bethnal Green road to the nearby oh/art as part of their current season "Environments" season. Splice previously toured in North America and Canada to full houses and high critical acclaim, and will be performed for the first time in Europe at the Queille Festival in France this May.

"innovative and at times even breathtaking"
Time Out on Tossed!

Pants on Fire are committed to crafting original, dramatically dynamic, visually brilliant and widely accessible work in an ensemble-driven process. The company aim to create uniquely theatrical worlds, which rely on the imagination of the spectator to form a synergy between performer and audience.

Voted Most Outstanding and Most Creative production of the 2001 Toronto fringe festival

Voted Best of the 2002 New York Living Room festival
